

Women of the island.

My documentary photo project seeks to show the life of women on the island, how they live and work in a natural environment. Document your daily life on the islands of the Parana River where the main connection is water, the river. It's my childhood, it's remembering the sound, the light, the air, the color, the humadales, the meetings, all the seasons.

No day the river is the same.