

title 「 Sea and Jewelry」

Is there a case you were taken and that made
the
heart left behind?

Is there a case that you killed a heart?

How many times did you shed tears thinking of the person?

Crying feeling is passing, and despair....

I know the best way is running away, but I can't.

Because you have taken one only my heart.

The people say " You are lucky, because you keep

thinking such sweet things," but still painful things

will not change.

"Immorality" "Lost Love" "Betrayal" " Jealousy"

"Innocent malice"

I just love one person.

Pain in my heart is also personal things, it is an informal documentary.

It is not an event to shake society, it is not a social problem....

It must be some small talkings in dramas or movies, but I want to tell.

It is one series representing tears my heart was left behind.

I had a strong heartbreak and started creating this work to make people who have the same experience a little healing.

I photographed this piece just like a musician makes a broken heart song.

About my experience and lots of stories with many men and women....
