Artist Statement – To Be Determined

Foraging through the landscape of the ordinary, I am drawn to photographing liminal spaces and the unintended beauty to be discovered within them. My practice involves much wandering and allowing time for a place to reveal itself through the human imprints and the effects of natural elements. I am intrigued by the synchronicity of the physical aspects of the topography that are commonly overlooked. With this series, I am particularly interested in making images that collectively evoke curiosity and wonder. The photographs present a feeling of welcomed solitude alongside a conscious slowing down of the pace of life in order to appreciate imperfection and transience.
